BREEDER INFORMATION

ROLE OF THE AUSTRALIAN STUD BOOK

The Australian Stud Book was founded in 1878 and its aim is to:

- > Ensure the integrity of Thoroughbred breeding in Australia.
- > Provide quality service to breeders by maintaining Thoroughbred breeding records. This will allow breeders to get on with the business of breeding horses.
- > Help promote the Australian Thoroughbred breeding industry as an industry with the highest standards of quality and professionalism in the world.

JANUARY 2014

ASB BREEDERS SERVICES

The following notes will help breeders determine what procedures are required to be completed and when the Australian Stud Book requires them.

Dates for the submission of forms and identification procedures have been provided where possible.

	How do I lodge returns with the ASB?
Internet	Mare and Stallion Returns can be lodged Online at www.studbook.org.au All returns lodged Online receive a 5% discount.

IDENTIFICATION OF THOROUGHBREDS

	Description	When?
Parentage Testing	Every foal born from 2003 onwards and every broodmare in Australia is required to have a DNA test (referred to as Parentage Testing). Only authorised ASB veterinarians can carry out the extraction of hair required for this test. An identification kit will be sent to the breeder by the ASB. Upon positive parentage verification, a Foal Identification Card (FIC) will be sent to the contact associated with the foal.	The ASB will advise breeders of a two-month period in which their foal/s must be parentage tested. This is done at the same time as microchipping. See our Foal Checklist on page 7.
Passports (Document of Description)	A Foal Identification Card (FIC) is produced at the time a horse is parentage verified. The Foal Identification Card must be relinquished to the Registrar of Racehorses at the time an application for naming is submitted. A new card (Thoroughbred Identification Card) with the horse's name on it will be issued by the Registrar of Racehorses upon naming. In previous years, a passport was produced upon parentage verification. The production of passports ceased for 2003 foals onwards and has been replaced by the Foal Identification Card.	Foal Identification Card is produced at the time a horse is parentage verified* *see definition in the ASB rules at www.studbook.org.au under the General Information menu.
Imported Horses Parentage Testing	All imported horses are required to be DNA typed to enable acceptance into the ASB.	An Import Application form is due within 30 days of the horse's arrival. This form can be downloaded from the ASB website. The ASB will forward an identification kit to the import applicant.

	Description	When?
Microchipping	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> > All foals born in Australia from 2003 onwards are required to be microchipped. > All imported horses born in the 2003 season onwards are required to be microchipped in Australia if not microchipped in their country of origin or previous country of residence. Only authorised ASB veterinarians can carry out the implanting of microchips. The ASB will forward the microchipping kit to the breeder. Breeders should then organise the authorised ASB vet to implant the microchip. The veterinarian is required to complete a Microchip, Brands and Sample (MBS) form and return it to the Stud Book. Mares and stallions born prior to 2003 and Shuttle Stallions are not required to be microchipped.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> > The ASB will send breeders an identification kit and advise of a two-month period in which their foal/s must be microchipped. This is done at the same time as parentage testing. > For imported horses, an Import Application form is due within 30 days of the horse's arrival. This form can be downloaded from the ASB website. Microchipping is completed at the same time as DNA sampling. MBS form due within 7 days of microchipping and DNA sampling.

What's in the Identification Kit?

	Description	When?
Freeze Branding	All Thoroughbred horses in the Australian Stud Book are required to be freeze branded. Freeze branding is optional for imported horses going straight to stud. Breeders who have a replicated brand (ie: other breeders have the same brand) must adhere to the drop numbers allocated when the brand was registered. If you are unsure as to whether your brand is replicated or unsure of your drop number allocation, check on the ASB website Brands Register at www.studbook.org.au or contact the ASB on 02 9663 8411.	All foals must be freeze branded in sufficient time for their brands to be discernible by 31 March of the first year of their life. Brands must be clearly visible as permanent white hair markings before horses are microchipped and DNA sampled.
Brands Register	The Australian Stud Book is a database of all registered Thoroughbred brands in Australia. Subscribers to the Australian Stud Book website can access the Brands Register.	Breeders should register their brand with the ASB as soon as possible to acquire a Brand Index Number. A Registration of Stud Brand form can be downloaded from the ASB website.
Brand Index Card and Brand Index Number	Once registered with the ASB, a Brand Index Card will be issued to the breeder displaying the brand image, breeder's name and Brand Index Number allocated to the brand registered. The Brand Index Card must be provided to the veterinarian at the time the horse is microchipped and DNA sampled to enable him/her to enter the correct Brand Index Number on relevant forms.	Veterinarians must quote the Brand Index Number on the Microchip, Brands and Sample form.

FOAL IDENTIFICATION - BREEDERS CHECKLIST

Follow the steps below to see the requirements for new season foals.

Dates and further information can be found in the Identification of Thoroughbreds section starting on page 4 of this brochure.

1.	If you do not have your brand registered with the Australian Stud Book, contact the ASB on 02 9663 8411. Once registered you will be issued with a Brand Index Card displaying an image of your brand and Brand Index Number.
2.	Freeze brand foals in sufficient time for their brands to be discernible by 31 March of their first year of life.
3.	Wait for the ASB to send your foal's identification kit. The kit will provide you with the date period in which you are required to parentage test your foal/s (see page 5 for the contents of this kit).
4.	Arrange for the veterinarian to visit in the month designated by the Australian Stud Book to implant the microchip. The vet will take a DNA hair sample and complete the Microchip, Brands and Sample form and return it to the ASB. The vet will require your Brand Index Card displaying your brand image and index number at this time (see point 1 above).
5.	Approximately two weeks after the vet has taken the sample, check that the foal has been parentage verified on the Australian Stud Book website on the Unnamed Produce screen, found under the horse name drop down menu at www.studbook.org.au .
6.	A Foal Identification Card (FIC) will be issued at the time of parentage verification. Upon receipt of the FIC, check the identity of the horse against the brands, markings description and microchip number. Any discrepancy must be reported to the ASB within 30 days of receipt. The FIC must remain with the person currently in possession of the horse, and must be relinquished to the Registrar of Racehorses at the time an application for naming is submitted.

STALLIONS

	Description	When?
Stallion Return	Stallion Proprietors must submit a Stallion Return each year for all stallions that serve mares.
